REPORT OF THE COLUMBIA INSTITUTION FOR THE DEAF.

COLUMBIA INSTITUTION FOR THE DEAF, KENDALL GREEN,
Washington, D. C., September 1, 1917.

SIR: The number of deaf pupils and students remaining in the institution on July 1, 1916, was 114; admitted during the year, 56; total, 170; admitted for the school year 1917-18, 52. From July 1, 1916, to July 1, 1917, there were under instruction 95 males and 75 females, a total of 170, of whom 117 have been in the collegiate department, representing 37 States and the District of Columbia; and 53 in the primary department. Of these, 40 were admitted as beneficiaries of the District of Columbia. During the fiscal year 45 were discharged from the institution by graduation and otherwise.

A list of names of students and pupils who have been under instruction in this institution since July 1, 1916, including those admitted for the school year 1917-18, will be found appended to this report.

HEALTH.

The usual standard of good health has prevailed among the students and pupils of the institution during the year. At three separate times cases of measles were discovered, but prompt isolation and proper treatment prevented anything like an epidemic, and all cases yielded easily to careful treatment.

Since the requirement of inoculation against typhoid fever some years ago, no serious cases of illness have occurred among the whole student body.

Untiring care on the part of our officers, prompt medical attention, together with plentiful supply of properly prepared food and wholesome exercise, has given the institution an unusual record for health.

The work of the dental infirmary has been continued with satisfactory results.

CHANGES IN THE CORPS OF OFFICERS AND TEACHERS.

After 35 years of service as instructor in art, Rev. Arthur D. Bryant, a graduate of the college department in the class of 1880, has retired to devote all of his time and energy to missionary work among the deaf of Washington and neighboring cities. His name has been placed upon the rolls as emeritus instructor.

Miss Charlotte E. Weiss, a graduate of Drexel Institute, Philadelphia, has been appointed instructor in drawing and applied art. She will devote all of her time to instruction in these branches, giving especial attention to the instruction of the young women of the college in the designing and making of costumes and the study of household decoration.

A complete list of officers for the year 1917-18 will be found in Appendix A at the end of this report.

COURSE OF INSTRUCTION.

The course of instruction during the past year remained the same as during the preceding year, with the exception of the addition of two hours' weekly required work from the sophomore and junior classes of the college for the bachelor's degree.

Plans are under way for the addition of more extended instruction in drawing and applied art and of instruction in printing.

ESTIMATES FOR THE FISCAL YEAR ENDING JUNE 30, 1919.

The following estimates for the fiscal year to end June 30, 1919, have already been submitted:

For the support of the institution, including salaries and incidental expenses, for books and illustrative apparatus, and for general repairs and improvements, $98,000.

For repairs to the buildings of the institution, including plumbing and steamfitting, and for repairs to pavements within the grounds, $6,000.

The sum of $98,000, which is the total asked for current expenses, is an increase of $9,800 over the amount asked for for the fiscal year to end June 30, 1918.

Eight hundred dollars of this sum is asked to provide for two additional pupils, or a total of 40, from the District of Columbia. As the number of such pupils has already risen as high as 39 for part of the year, and has slowly but steadily increased for a number of years past, this small increase in appropriation seems very reasonable and necessary.

An increase of $4,000 is needed to provide for well-deserved increases in salaries of employees of the institution receiving $1,800 or less. The regular increase provided for the Government employees during the fiscal year to end June 30, 1918, has not been allowed to the employees of our institution under a recent ruling of the Comptroller of the Treasury. There seems no good reason why the employees of our institution, engaged in occupations similar to those of Government employees and living under the same circumstances, should not need and receive the additional compensation which Congress has agreed is needed by employees of the Government, and it is earnestly hoped that the additional $4,000 asked for for increases in salaries will be granted.

Five thousand dollars has been added to the estimates for current expenses over the preceding year to provide for an addition of approximately 25 students. An increase of 25 in the number of free scholarships available for students in the advanced department is now being asked for from Congress. While the average per capita cost of instructing and maintaining the college students is well over $600 per annum, it is believed that on account of the small increase in overhead expenses attending the addition of 20 to 25 students, the small sum of $5,000 will provide, for the fiscal year to end June 30, 1919, for the absolutely necessary increase of expenses due to such additional students as would enter for the year.

The present number of free scholarships allowed in the advanced department is 100. This number was fixed in June, 1900. Since that time there has been a steady increase in the number of students desiring to enter the collegiate department, and it has been necessary in the past two years to deny the applications of a number of promising and needy students who have not absolutely completed all requirements for admission, but who might have been able to make up their deficiencies and show an excellent record of attainment in studies had it been possible to admit them to the institution.

With the increased accommodations afforded by the new dormitory for women and some additional rooms already provided for the young men, it will be easily possible to accommodate from 20 to 30 more students in the collegiate department than heretofore. Such an increase in the number of free scholarships will add to the usefulness of the institution at a comparatively small expense, and will meet with the approval of everyone interested in farthering the higher education of the deaf.

NEW DORMITORY.

Work on the new dormitory for college women has progressed slowly but steadily during the year. The young women of the college have been accommodated temporarily in the home of the president of the institution, in the home of Prof. Draper, made vacant by his leave of absence, and in several houses occupied by members of the faculty and their families. New quarters for young men of the college were provided in the old museum in College Hall, and temporary arrangements made to house in College Hall a number of officers and teachers whose quarters were formerly in the young women's dormitory.

All students and officers were thus accommodated on our own grounds, and the $3,000 allowed to provide temporary quarters during the construction of the new dormitory has all been expended in such a way as to take proper care of those connected with the institution, and, at the same time, add to the future convenience and accommodations of the present buildings. While this arrangement has been attended with many difficulties, it has been far better than any attempt to take care of our students and officers outside of our grounds, and the fact that the health of the young women of the college has remained good during the year and that they have all been able to continue their work successfully, proves the wisdom of the arrangement.

MEETINGS OF THE CONVENTION OF AMERICAN INSTRUCTORS OF THE DEAF, AND THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF THE DEAF.

Especially memorable meetings of the convention of American Instructors of the Deaf and of the National Association of the Deaf were held at Hartford, Conn., June 29 to July 7, 1917.

The present year marks the centennial of the founding of the first permanent school for the deaf in this country by Rev. Thomas Hopkins Gallaudet, father of Dr. Edward Miner Gallaudet, first principal of this institution and founder of Gallaudet College. The meeting was held in part in the original school building, erected soon after Thomas Hopkins Gallaudet returned from his successful study of methods of instructing the deaf under the Abbé Sicard at Paris, France.

A large number of teachers of the deaf representing nearly all States of the Union and Canada attended the meeting. Dr. Edward Miner Gallaudet was president of the convention, and the president of the institution, as vice president of the convention, had charge of the program. Prof. Herbert E. Day was elected assistant secretary of the meeting.

Many valuable papers dealing with the education of the deaf were read. Miss Sarah Harvey Porter had charge of the normal section, and Dr. Charles R. Ely, of the college faculty, presented a paper on "Gallaudet College and vocational training."

There were present from the faculty of Gallaudet College, President Hall, Dr. Fay, Dr. Ely, Dr. Hotchkiss, Dr. Draper, Prof. Day, Miss Peet, Miss Porter, Mr. Drake, Mr. Hughes, and Mr. Fusfeld; and from the faculty of the Kendall School, Mr. Steed, Miss Fay, Miss Marbut, Miss Ely, and Miss Williams.

The alumni of the college held a regular meeting and carried out an interesting program at the same time that the meetings of the convention were held.

Following the meeting of the convention of American Instructors of the Deaf, there occurred what was probably the largest gathering of educated deaf people in the country at the regular meeting of the National Association of the Deaf.

Over a thousand deaf people from all parts of the country gathered to express their appreciation of the life and work of Rev. Thomas Hopkins Gallaudet and to pay tributes to his memory. They advocated strongly during their discussions the continuation of a broad-minded policy and freedom of methods in the education of the deaf. The meeting was made still more memorable by the tributes paid by a delegation of four educated deaf Frenchmen, who made the journey to this country at great hazard, in order to join in the celebration. These delegates, M. Henri Gaillard and M. Eugene Graff, of Paris; M. Jean Olivier, of Reims; and M. Edmond Pilet, of Rouen, visited a number of points of interest in the United States, including our institution, before returning to France.

On July Fourth the organization of teachers, the alumni of the college, and the National Association of the Deaf, united in special services in honor of Thomas Hopkins Gallaudet. Dr. Edward Allen Fay, vice president of the college, was chosen to speak for the convention of American Instructors of the Deaf.

APPENDIX C.

REGULATIONS.

1. The academic year is divided into three terms, the first beginning on the last Thursday in September and closing on the 24th of December; the second beginning the 29th of December and closing the next to the last Friday in March; the third beginning the following Monday and closing the Wednesday before the last Wednesday in June.
2. The vacation is from the Wednesday before the last Wednesday in June to the last Thursday in September.
3. There are holidays at Thanksgiving, Christmas, Washington's Birthday, Easter, and Decoration Day.
4. Pupils may visit their homes during the regular vacation and on the above-named holidays, but at no other time unless for some special urgent reason, and then only by permission of the president.
5. The bills for the maintenance and tuition of pupils supported by their friends must be paid semiannually in advance.
6. The charge for pay pupils is $350 per annum. This sum covers all expenses in the primary department except clothing and extraordinary medical attention, and all in the college except clothing, books, and extraordinary medical attention.
7. All deaf-mutes of teachable age, of good mental capacity, and properly belonging to the District of Columbia are received without charge. To students from the States and Territories who have not the means of defraying all the expenses of the college course the board of directors renders such assistance as circumstances seem to require, so far as the means at its disposal will allow.
8. It is expected that the friends of the pupils will provide them with clothing, and it is important that upon entering or returning to the institution they should be supplied with a sufficient amount for an entire year. All clothing should be plainly marked with the owner's name.
9. All letters concerning pupils or applications for admission should be addressed to the president.
10. The institution is open to visitors during term time on Thursdays only, between the hours of 9 a. m. and 3 p. m. Visitors are admitted to chapel service on Sunday afternoons at 5 o'clock.
